With over two decades of industry expertise under her belt, Rachel has ascended to become a trusted authority in delivering top-tier entertainment. Nestled in the heart of New York City, her journey from law school to the forefront of entertainment law is as captivating as the star-studded events she orchestrates.

A graduate of the esteemed University of Pennsylvania Law School, Rachel's trajectory veered decisively toward entertainment law upon her arrival in the bustling metropolis of New York City. Here, she honed her legal prowess while forging invaluable partnerships with leading agents in both Los Angeles and NYC. Representing a diverse array of A-list celebrities, musicians, Broadway talents, and professional athletes, Rachel quickly carved out her niche in the industry.

But beyond her professional accolades, Rachel is also a devoted mother of three and a proud pet parent to two adorable dogs. Her unwavering love for her family shines through whether she's jet-setting across the globe or cheering on her children at their sporting events. And when she's not immersed in work or family, you're likely to find her on the golf course, sharpening her skills and aiming to lower her handicap.

Having had the privilege of interviewing Rachel firsthand, it's evident that her passion for bringing dreams to life extends far beyond the confines of the boardroom.
